

Happy Hour Designed by Pietro Arosio

A highly adaptable, modular sofa suitable for a modern, dynamic and multi function environment. The system is built on a steel base frame, supported on chrome-plated feet with steel base-plate and with elastic straps to support seat unit, and is completed with differentiated density polyurethane foam padding. Available in four widths, the seats are equipped with a backrest unit fitted on an articulated joint which allows it to be tilted to various positions and folded down flat, level with the seat unit. Fully removable covers.
