

joko stool bartoli design

The distinguishing feature of the Joko is that its top, front legs and rear legs have been fused into a single shape, which is soft and organic, the ultimate expression of formal reduction. The stool comes in counter and bar height. Also in chair and armchair versions. All versions are perfect for the home or contract sector.

materials:

Metal frame with foamed polyurethane upholstered in fabric or in natural or synthetic leather.

dimensions:

