

mademoiselle Philippe Starck

A small armchair combining the lightness of the polycarbonate frame with the comfort of the soft seat and the elegance of the upholstery of fabric. The transparent or glossy black injection-molded frame attaches to the broad and comfortable seat at four welding points which make for a solid but flexible coupling. The design is linear and harmonious and a vast range of upholstery fabrics allow you to choose the look closest to your own personality. The collection in also includes a series of print fabrics signed by Missoni and Moschino.
