

loop sophie de vocht

Loop is a hybrid chair / rug. This chaise lounge created by young Dutch designer Sophie de Vocht is born from her interest in technique of "tufting", characterized by a high number of tufts of yarn inserted through needles on to a fabric base. The metal structure acts as a support and allows the user to relax upon the chaise lounge, cradled by its softness and by the contact with the ground where it is placed. All of this in perfect harmony between man and nature.

This modern chaise lounge is characterized by its careful craftsmanship and ability to evoke various images and objects in the minds of those who see it, allowing their imagination to take flight.
