

mutka karri monni

A system desk for various uses; the leg and support structure of the table enable unlimited extensions to the table using additions. Single tables can be used for smaller group meetings, while the extended version allows room for larger groups and meetings. The visual look of the table is minimalistic and clear, making it easy to adapt to different kinds of spaces and combine with different types of chairs. The structure of the table is based on support rails underneath the work top, allowing the leg structures to be installed in any position needed.

materials:

System of tables with metal base mat chromed and top in plywood available in different finishes - white laminate, white and black Fenix 0.9 laminate, blanch oak and black open pore.

frame

matt chromed

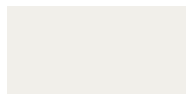

top

blached oak

black open pore

white laminate