

oil vase tom dixon

A multi-colored vase with a mysterious iridescent finish applied by hand. The light refracting from the surface creates the lustrous effect of petrol on water or a dragonfly wing. Oil is created with mouth blown glass formed by hand with a scissor cut edge. As each product is made by hand, there will be variations in form and color.

materials:

Blown glass and iridescent paint

dimensions:

