

textile ana llobet

This collection draws its inspiration from fashion; the concepts and techniques used in textiles have been carried over into the world of furniture. The way items in the collection are put together uses a system that simulates how seams are stitched in clothes. This enables us to obtain an item with great flexibility that adapts to everyone, the same way as a fashion garment. The stitching in the chair makes it perfectly ergonomic, providing comfort and giving the design its own individual character.
