

degree patrick norguet

Is it a pop sculpture, a piece of the scenery or a giant cork? No, not one of these, it is Degree. Used as a small table, bedside unit, storage unit or even a chair, it has a small top that recalls a graduate's hat. It is made of sturdy and practical black or white rotational polypropylene, with or without genuine cork coating: a natural material that adds material quality and familiar appeal to this original mult function item for the home.

materials:

Base and top in cork or white or black polypropylene.

dimensions:

